GEZ WALSH

Gez Walsh, the author of The Spot on my Bum, Twisted Minds, and many more poetry collections, will be joining us for dinner and will be speaking afterwards. Here is an extract from his website:

"In 1997 I burst onto the world poetry scene with a collection of poems that were not for the faint hearted. My poems were written, as it has been told many times, to encourage my dyslexic son, Lee, to read. I now travel the length and breadth of the UK visiting schools, libraries, festivals and theatres delivering my unique brand of humour. I create a world where both young people, not so young people and downright old people feel free to laugh out loud and take part in the performances...

I am a former social worker who now tours full time and also appear frequently on TV and radio. I have my own radio chat show for Phoenix FM where everyone from the famous to the not so famous who have a story to tell are invited to come along and share it."
