

News

I know it's not long since you all had a newsletter, but we are sending this out to you as we are having our Summer Social slightly earlier than usual this year.

Our evening will be held at The Wheatsheaf Banqueting and Conference Centre at Normanton near Wakefield and will feature Kev Sutherland a comic artist and caricaturist as our after dinner speaker. His reputation follows him as that of a highly entertaining speaker sure to keep you all amused throughout the evening. We thought a change of venue would be good, giving others from a different part of the Yorkshire and Humberside Area the opportunity to join us, although the location is very accessible to all being just 5 minutes off the M62 motorway – please see the enclosed booking form for more details.

Also, we will be holding our AGM on the same evening – just a slightly earlier starting time for those of you who wish to attend this.

Training

Our latest training session “Display SOS” held at Rastrick High School in West Yorkshire was a big hit with all who attended. Pauline Carr, the course leader was extremely funny, making the whole day just fly by. I'm sure there are now going to be some fantastic displays in schools and libraries all across the county

Details of our next course which will be a visit to the Railway Museum Library and Archives in York and a visit to one of the University libraries also in York is still being organised – keep a look out on the website and our next mailing for more details.

Also of interest to you may be a course organised by CILIP's special interest School Libraries Group. The course is called “Up, up and away” the Role of the Librarian in Transition Across Key Stages

It covers transition from Year 6 right through to University with a variety of speakers – held on Monday 26th April.

For further details of this course please contact Laura Taylor Email: LTaylor@cityacademy.co.uk or telephone 0207 3945108
