

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

Trainer: Various
 Date: Wednesday 14th May
 Time: 9.00am—3.15pm
 Location: Hall Cross Upper School,
 Thorne Road, Doncaster, South Yorkshire, DN1 2HY

Course description

Delegates are expected to suspend their adult sensibilities and take part as though a student taking part in an extra-curricular activity. At the end you will understand how it feels for a student to voluntarily take part in events we sometimes wonder why are not so popular, and also have gained confidence in offering activities based on books using props, drama, story-telling and such. Delegates will go home with a smile and a bounce in their step.

Trainers

Lesley Hurworth is an enthusiastic and experienced librarian, at Armthorpe School, Doncaster. Her presentation of “murder in the library” will give an insight into delivering an interesting and exciting library session.

Alec Williams is a frequent visitor to schools telling stories and running poetry sessions. A lifelong advocate of reading, Alec runs practical courses which are rich in humour, examples, extracts and anecdotes.

Dave Cryer has worked as a freelance writer and dramatist since 2004, his “Dave days” are innovative and inspiring.

Outline of the day

9.00	Welcome and introduction
9.30	Murder in the library, Lesley Hurworth
10.45	Morning break
11.00	Storytelling session, Alec Williams
12.30	Lunch
1.30	Drama workshop
3.00	Plenary
3.15	End

Book by Wednesday 30th April 2008